GHN-Online and RMS Team to Deliver a Single Claims Processing & Remittance Solution for Healthcare Banking

GHN's Clearinghouse Technologies and RMS' Paper Remittance & Payment Posting Tools Create Comprehensive Revenue Cycle Management Solution

Dallas, Texas and Oklahoma City, Okla.— March 31, 2008 — GHN-Online, the healthcare industry's leading provider of real-time revenue cycle management solutions, and Revenue Management Solutions (RMS), innovating medical payment and remittance systems, today announced a strategic alliance to deliver a comprehensive claims processing and remittance solution for healthcare banking. The alliance will combine GHN-Online clean-claims technologies and predictive analytic tools with RMS' solutions for Explanation of Benefits (EOB) conversion, reconciliation, posting, and contract management. The complementary technologies will help healthcare providers to be reimbursed to the fullest extent possible and as quickly as possible.

"We are committed to meeting the evolving needs of the healthcare banking market and are delighted to be working with RMS who is equally committed and shares our passion for advancing the electrification of the banking industry's healthcare claims processing," said Azadeh Farahmand, CEO of GHN-Online. "Our combined capabilities drive an entirely new business model for healthcare banking by providing a single and streamlined revenue cycle management solution that spans clean-claims submissions to receivables postings," continued Farahmand. "This model will effectively improve revenue flow for healthcare providers while lowering rising administrative healthcare costs."

"GHN-Online is a dynamic organization that has pioneered on-line claims scrubbing, predictive analytics and end-to-end real-time connections to payers," noted Tom Dean, CEO of RMS. "Our hand-in-glove relationship with GHN gives healthcare providers the best way to submit a clean, HIPAA-compliant claim combined with RMS' automated processes to remit and post the claim. This is a complete revenue cycle management solution that improves the entire healthcare banking value chain," continued Dean. "GHN does everything it can on the front-end to ensure a claim will be paid, and RMS handles the back end by automatically posting remittances, acting upon exceptions, and processing the next claim."
